Dahlias

Cultivation .- While the Dahlia is one of the easiest of all flowers to cultivate, it by no means follows that it requires no attention. In fact, no flower cultivated will give such a generous response to good cultivation as the Dahlia. Deep and thorough stirring of the soil during the early growth of the plant is indispensable to success. The Dahlia, with but few exceptions, should be given an open, sunny situation for at least a portion of each day. It is a rank feeder and should be given a rich soil and kept free from grass and weeds. Cultivation should cease when the blooms appear. After this a liberal supply of water in dry weather will be all they require. Plant the bulbs two or three feet apart, according to the size and habit of the plant. The bulbs should be planted about three or four inches below the surface, laying the bulb on its side. Varieties growing three feet in height should be tied to stakes to prevent falling. Plant about the first of April in this latitude.

NOVELTIES.

Flowering Sweet Peas

Preparing the Soil.—Select a warm, sunny place, and if possible prepare the ground in the fall by a liberal application of well rotted manure. If your soil is adobe, use old coarse manure, and fine manure in the spring. Place the fine manure as much in the trences as possible.

Sowing the Seed.—After you have the soil well prepared, make a trench six inches deep, sow the seed about one inch apart in the trench, and cover two inches. As the vines grow, draw the earth up to them until the ground is level or slightly lower between the rows. Another way: Make two trenches six inches deep from six to eight inches apart and the double rows from eighteen inches to two feet apart, making the ground lower between the rows.

A Few Hints.—Prepare the ground and get the seed in as early as possible.

Have the ground moist (not soggy wet) when you sow the seed.

Do not irrigate until the plant is through the ground; sprinkle rows to keep the ground moist.

When nicely started, do not let them want for water; sprinkle the vines two or three times a week, but not in the heat of the day.

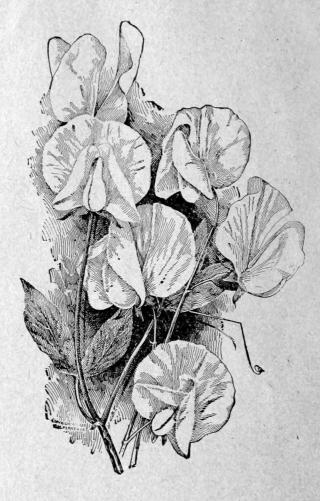

A small quantity of fertilizer mixed with the ground in the bottom of the trench before planting is very beneficial and the plant appreciates mulching.

Keep all flowers cut off if you want continuous bloom. When they go to seed that ends flowers.

Do not use fresh manure.

Sugar Beets and Mangel Wurzel

For Stock Feed

Add 8c per pound if sent by mail.

Culture-As all Mangels require a deep soil in order to grow well, plow and subsoil from a foot to eighteen inches, and apply plenty of rich stable manure. Sow from April 10 to last of May, 4 to 5 pounds to the acre, in rows 18 inches to 2 feet apart, and thin to 18 inches in the rows. As soon as frost occurs, dig the crop. In order to be well preserved for gradual consumption during the winter, Mangel Wurzel should be heaped to a height of four to six feet on a dry, sloping situation, and covered lightly with straw, hay or corn stalks and enough soil to keep the covering from blowing off. As soon as this soil becomes frozen, cover all about eight or ten inches deep with more soil. By following up this gradual process of covering, all danger of heating will be obviated and the roots will keep in perfect order.

Mangel Murzel, Mammoth Long Red. One of the largest and best croppers.

Mangel Wurzel, Yellow Globe. Globe shape, medium size, and by some growers preferred to other varieties.

Mangel Wurzel, Golden Tankard. Valuable yellow fleshed variety, said to contain a large per cent. of sugar; very productive; matures early, growing nearly all above the ground; is very easy to harvest.

Lane's Imperial Sugar. This variety is considered one of the most desirable for general stock feeding. Good for cattle, hogs and sheep. Has more sugar than the Mangel Wurzel, but not as much as regular sugar beets. Some call this variety half sugar, half mangel.

White French Sugar. One of the best sugar beets for stock feeding.

Artichokes

Artichokes.—Require a deep, rich, sandy loam with plenty of well rotted manure. Sow seed in April or May; when large enough transplant in rows three to four feet apart, two feet in the rows. They reach maturity the second year. Also may be sown in hot bed in February and transplanted in May. In this way crop may be gathered first season. The heads should be cut off before ripening for culinary purposes. Price, per oz., 30c.

Asparagus

Sow in drills one foot apart, and when the plants are four or five inches high they should be thinned out so the plants will be nine inches apart in the rows. Keep the weeds down thoroughly the first year, else they choke down the young seedlings. The deeper the soil and greater the abundance of manure that is used, the greater the crop. The experience of Colorado gardeners is that Asparagus can be cut from one to two years earlier than in the east. It is the most profitable crop grown on the market.

Early Argenteuil.—Earlier, larger and better than the standard Conover's Colossal. Oz., 10c; ¼ lb., 25c; lb., 80c.

Columbian White Mammoth—This is a very large white asparagus; it furnishes white shoots which stay white as long as fit for use. Seed produces 80 to 90 per cent. of white plants. Oz., 10c; ¼ lb., 25c; lb., 75c.

We Can Supply Asparagus Roots in Season.— Two year old roots, per doz., 25c; per 100 by express, 75c; mail, per 100, $1.25; special price per 1,000 on application.

Select light, warm soil; plant when danger of frost is past in spring, about two feet apart, in drills; cover one inch deep; 1 lb. to 50 feet of drill.

Early Snowball Cauliflower.

Early Snowball.—The earliest; the surest header; the most profitable; the best variety for either the market or the family garden. # Celery

Pueblo is a carlot shipper of celery; a greater acreage is being planted each season. The standard varieties are: White Plume, Snow White, Golden Self Blanching, Chicago Giant, all self blanching; Giant Pascal, a winter variety, and should be blanched by trenching.

Sow seed in hot bed; transplant four inches apart when three inches high, in finely pulverized soil; water and protect until well rooted, then transplant into rows of five or six feet apart, either on surface or in well manured trenches a foot in depth; set the plants from six to eight inches apart; to blanch, draw earth around the plants from time to time, taking care not to cover top of center shoots.

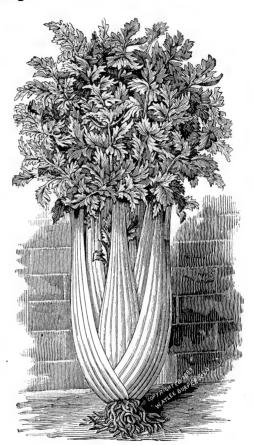

White Plume Celery.—The earliest, handsomest and easiest grown, and undoubtedly the earliest celery grown in Colorado.
The peculiarity of this variety is that its stalk and portions of its inner leaves are white, so that by closing its stalks, either by tying them up with matting or by simply drawing the soil up against the plant and pressing it together with the hands, and again drawing up the soil with the hoe or plow, so as to keep the soil that has been squeezed against the celery in its place, the work of blanching is completed. Oz., 20c;
¼ 1b., 60c; 1b., $2.00.

New Snow White. — (Livingston's) — The Snow White is a pure white, self-blanching variety. It is without a rival in purity and color. In vigor of growth, ease of blanching, size, richness of flavor, crispness and purity, it is ideal. It grows solid on all kinds of soil and keeps better than standard varieties. Packet, 10c; oz., 35c.

Giant Pascal.—Late, very large ribbed celery; superior keeping quality; blanches very easily and quickly; the heart is golden yellow; the stalks are large, thick and solid. Oz., 15c; 1/4 lb., 50c.

Golden Self Blanching.—Similar to the White Plume in its self blanching characteristics; very solid and of a rich nutty flavor; plants of a yellowish green color; as they mature the inner stems and leaves turn a beautiful yellow. Grown for both early and late use. Oz., 35c; ¼ lb., $1.25; lb., $4.00.

Our Golden Self Blanching Celery Seed is French grown and was a money-maker for our Celery growers last season. We import this seed direct.

Chicago Giant Self Blanching.

Chicago Giant Self Blanching Celery.—This variety was found six years ago by a German gardener in Wayne County, New York, in a block of Giant Pascal. In testing this celery it has grown side by side with White Plume, Golden Self Blanching and Snow White, all of which it has excelled in earliness, flavor, quality, height of stalk and head, and size of heart. This variety can be grown in block 8 by 12 inches or 12 by 12 inches; grown in this way it blanches readily without artificial aid. Package, 10c; per oz., 35c.

Field Seeds

ALFALFA OR LUCERNE CLOVER.

A valuable forage plant, and is becoming more extensively used as its worth is known. It requires a rich, deep soil. The sun must have free access to Alfalfa, and the ground must be rolling to enable the water to pass off readily. A wet under ground is fatal to the plant. A great many sow in connection with oats. The latter should be sowed first and harrowed in, and then sow from twenty to twenty-five pounds to the acre of alfalfa seed, and roll the ground well. when cut in bloom. It will not shed rain like other hay, and must be either stored in sheds or covered with canvas. After being cut, alfalfa should lie until it wilts, and then cured in the cock, else the leaves become dry. crumble off, and the best part of the crop is lost. It is an all around feed for all kinds of stock. Alfalfa pasture is the best for all kinds of stock. Market Price.

BARLEY.

Hulless and Beardless.—It is very productive and does equally as well in high and low altitudes. The straw is of good length and strong, the heads look very much like wheat. This is not a brewing barley, but is used for feeding stock. Our seed is Colorado grown. Market Price.

WHEAT.

Macaroni or Durum (Kubana) Spring Wheat.—Our seed is Colorado grown, without irrigation. This is the variety recommended by the Colorado Agricultural College for arid lands. We have a fine sample of this variety. Market Price.

Market Price.

FIELD CORN. (Colorado Grown.)

Our Field Corn we have grown for us in Pueblo County, and we find that it does much better than corn shipped from the East; so order early. Market Price.

White Australian Corn.—It is an early flint corn, used by a great many for roasting ears. For those who have no water for irrigation, this is one of the best varieties. Very fine for hominy.

White Dent.—This is a very fine white corn and preferred by some to the Yellow Dent. Market Price.

Miller's Yellow Dent.—(Mountain Grown Seed)—This variety we have sold for the past few years in small quantities, not being able to secure the seed in quantities enough to justify quoting in our catalogue. We will have a surplus to offer this season at market price. This is a very productive corn, small ear and cob, more suitable to the foothills, and mountain districts, and thoroughly acclimated. Very early. Good for dry claims.

Colorado Yellow Dent.—This is Colorado grown seed; well acclimated and a good cropper.

Garden Tools and Cultivators

NEW MODEL SEED DRILL. Try the Latest and Best.

ITS FEATURES: Regulation of Discharge—Drills of similar construction are usually provided with a series of holes of various sizes, through which the seed is passed, which of course do not always give an opening of exact size required. The operator is usually told, in substance, that "if one hole doesn't suit, try another." This adjustment in the Model is accomplished in a very simple and effective manner by use of a slide with a pea-shaped opening, passing under the bottom of the seed reservoir, which is provided with a perforation of similar shape in a reversed position. This slide can be instantly adjusted to the size indicated by the index, or to a hair breadth variation between-a vital point in a perfect seed drill.

The Index.—Or Indicator, is plain, convenient and reliable. It is placed in open sight immediately under the eye of the operator, and can be quickly adjusted to the slightest variation desired. As the names of the principal seeds are plainly shown on the index itself, it is not necessary to refer to any table of references.

Cut-off.—The flow of seeds can be instantly stopped by a swinging cut-off, conveniently operated by a cord and ring on handles.

Marker.—Is simple, easily adjusted and firmly held.

Broad Wheel.—The main wheel is of large size unusual width, preventing its sinking into soft dirt.

Covering Roller.—It is attached by a swinging frame, enabling the operator to roll lightly or otherwise by varying the pressure on the handles.

Opening Plow.—Is of steel, adjustable in depth. Each drill crated and carefully packed for shipment. Weight, 40 lbs. Price, $8.00.

Steel Dibber.

For setting out plants, 20c.

Not an ordinary, cheaply made affair, but substantially made. For single perch roosts use two brackets for perches up to six feet long.

Will effectually protect your fowls from midge louse or mite ravages by making it impossible for them to reach the fowls at night. Each point of contact between the roosts and building is provided with oil cups and the mites cannot get onto the roosts from the building, or vice versa. In addition to this, they are the most convenient bracket on the market. The roosts can be raised up out of the way for cleaning the dropping board, or they can be taken out of the building by merely drawing out the pins with which the brackets are put together.
